ELECT OFFICERS FOR PRESS CLUB

Good Start Made at Inaugural Meeting of Club—Qualifications for Membership Discussed

The Press Club took its first steps towards organization at a meeting held last Monday at 4.30 p.m., in Arts 248, when the nominating committee presented its report from which an executive was chosen.

Bruce Macdonald, after making a few opening remarks, called on Dr. Gordon, who gave a short and pointed talk on journalism. "The one thing essential to a journalist," said Dr. Gordon, "is a wide knowledge of affairs." He then went on to say that few rules can be pointed out as guides in acquiring the ability of writing, and this largely explains why the art of writing well is such a difficult problem. Practice, however, will go a long way; write and re-write. Aim to become your own critic. When you are able to find faults in the writing which was your last year's masterpiece then you are progressing. However, avoid the equally bad mistake of becoming over-critical as this may result in the lack of confidence in your writing.

Dr. Gordon recommended the golden middle way, and warned against two extremes. "Do not make frantic attempts at showing too much life and pep in your writings, because, this if carried too far will result in the opposite effect. Again avoid too pedantic a style. Guard against slang, and above all dead slang." Dr. Gordon, in passing expressed his appreciation of the efforts put forth by the students in forming a club of this nature. He said that he would willingly comply with any requests for his assistance in proceeding with the new work.

Mr. Watts then took charge of the meeting. Mr. Oke was selected for temporary secretary. The question arose as to whether three members on the executive would be sufficient. The opinion was expressed that five members would be required to deal with the many problems of the new organization. Nominations were then open for two additional members for the executive. The nominations were accepted and voting followed, the result of which was: President, Bruce Macdonald; Vice President, Miss Sorensen; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Hewelcke; additional members of the executive, Miss Hartshorn and Mr. MacKenzie. An Honorary President will be selected by the executive.

All the members of the executive are students who have had former experience and who are interested in the work of journalism, each having been actively connected with The Gateway. Bruce Macdonald, the president, is the editor of The Gateway, has provided the dynamic for the idea which led up to the formation of the Press Club. Mr. MacKenzie is also a member of the Gateway staff, namely, news editor.

Since it was decided that the executive draw up a constitution to be read at the next meeting, Mr. Macdonald, in order to obtain some ideas to work from in framing the constitution, suggested some questions for discussion. Mr. Macdonald's suggestions met with good response, and on one of his questions, that of membership to the club, nearly everyone present had some opinion to express.

At the next meeting organization will be completed, the executive will present the outline of the constitution, and a short programme will be given.

AN APPRECIATION

With this, the final issue of the year The Gateway is taking the opportunity of expressing its gratitude towards those who have, during the past three months, contributed to the columns of this paper.

The Gateway has no staff of regular reporters. Sometimes one, sometimes another volunteer is asked to give of his time and energy to cover the assignment of the day. Uniform willingness and efficiency has characterized the body of workers whose united efforts have so largely contributed to the successful publication of the last ten issues.

Among The Gateway contributors for the past term have been:

News Department: Gladys Sorenson, Sada Kiteley, Dorothy Hartshorn, Jean Williamson, Maude Walsh, Mary Manson, Helen Manning, Jean Auger, Marguerite Cooper, M. M. Gimby, Geoff Hewelcke, Roy Klink, Cliff Underwood, Wesley Oke, Louis Hyndman, Rache Dickson, Bob Harrison, Howard Hargrave, Stan Barker, Melvin Gale, Raymond Rosenthal, Wes Smith, Frank Newson, Murray Nixon, Charles Davis, Percy Davies, Eric Rymer, C. K. Johns, Eric McCormack, Don MacKenzie, Vic Lloyd, Max Wershof, Vivian Leech, Tom Michie, Ed Thompson, Ivor Lefsrud, Fred Irwin. Circulation: Misses Buckley, Lehman, and Messrs. Hausliak and Buchanan. Advertising: Martin Johnson.

OUR SYMPATHIES

The deepest sympathy of the staff of The Gateway and the student body goes out to Bruce Macdonald, our editor-in-chief, who on Thursday afternoon received the news of the sudden death of his father, Dr. Macdonald, of Medicine Hat.

Our feelings are the deeper when they are for one who has during the past year served the student body so faithfully and efficiently. To Bruce, with a highly successful term of office just brought to a close, and with the Christmas season with us again, the news comes as a paralyzing shock.

We assure Bruce, his mother, and brother of our deepest flow feeling in the bereavement of one whom we all, through knowing Bruce, respect and admire.

JUNIORS RECEIVE IN ANCIENT GARDEN

Class to Be Congratulated on the Splendid Success—Decorations Make a Decided Hit

Although there was much controversy before the Junior Reception, given in Athabasca Dining Hall, last Friday evening, as to what it should be called, there certainly has been no disagreement as to the quality of its success. All those who attended whether overtown guests or students vouch for the enjoyment of the occasion.

Those on the Junior Class executive who are to be particularly congratulated on the happy results of their labours, are Mr. Watts, President; Miss Sherlock, Vice-President; Mr. Gale, Secretary-Treasurer; Mr. Mueller and Mr. McIntyre. The Misses Kiteley, Atkinson, Swinerton, Manning, and McQueen deserve special mention for their work on the decorations and refreshment committee, as well as Mr. Lloyd for the programmes and Mr. Sturrock for the orchestra.

A Flower Garden

The scene of the dance was a quaint grandmother's flower-bed. Posies of every shade and description bloomed there, although the general color scheme was in the pastel tones of pink and blue.

Pink and blue ribbons streamed across the ceiling forming a rainbow canopy over the dancers' heads. The chandeliers were shaded by huge pink and mauve curly petalled buds. In each window stood green vases of delicate rose apple-blossoms. The corners were screened by verdant flower-strewn trellises and here also were banked masses of fragrant evergreens. Along the sides were the rendezvous, Roseaceae, Liliaceae, Primulaceae, and Ericaceae. They were picturesque gates with holly hocks peeping over the tops. The programmes of seventeen dances, two extras and one "extra" extra had little watering cans with the number "26" on them and the words "Junior Reception" below.

A delicious supper was served in the gymnasium. The long white-covered tables were banded in pink, and pink-shaded candles were placed at intervals down the centres.

An innovation introduced by the orchestra and committee in charge was the very interesting thunder and lightning effect. During one of the dances the lights were turned off and on with startling rapidity while the kettle-drums roared with surprising realism to the delight of all. There was a moonlight waltz with a "pale, young moon" shining on the garden landscape behind the orchestra. Although the music was all of a high quality, Mr. Tomlinson and Mr. Shapter certainly earned public recognition for their excellent jazz performance during the second supper.

Altogether this year's Junior Reception was one of the most delightful affairs given at Varsity this term. The patronesses were; Mrs. H. M. Tory, Mrs. W. A. R. Kerr, Mrs. E. K. Broadus, Mrs. A. L. Burt and Miss F. S. Dodd.

PRIZE FOR STORY OF UNIVERSITY LIFE

With the end in view of stimulating a greater interest among the University graduates in the Art of Writing, and with the ultimate purpose of encouraging any talent that may exist in this line, the Writers' Club are offering a prize of fifteen dollars, open to undergraduates and members of the Alumni, for the best short story with a University of Alberta setting.

Ample material for such a story must exist where over eleven hundred students are thrown together in daily contact; the gay Lothario, and the sweet young Co-ed, the frivolous Freshette, and the intellectually inclined young man who is absorbed in the hobby of prostrating the tests for a row—around the varied lives of each of these personages can be woven an interesting short story, humorous, tragic, or romantic.

All manuscripts must be handed in before March 1st, 1924, addressed to Rache Dickson, Secretary of the Writers' Club. The result of the competition will be made known as soon as possible after that date.

Student Government Upheld At Important Meeting

Committee on Student Affairs Consider Present Method Student Discipline, Despite Defects, Best of Three Possibilities

Self-discipline as operative through student self-government was fully vindicated at the meeting of the Committee on Student Affairs, held Thursday evening. At this meeting not only members of the Committee, but members of the Students' Council were also present.

After a discussion of four hours, in which frank doubts as well as staunch approval of student government, the gathering voted unanimously in favor of the motion that, "The meeting would consider it unwise to make any change in student government at the present time." In view of the fact that the laying of information was considered the one great difficulty in bringing those violating the Students' Code to justice, a committee, consisting of Dr. MacEachern, Mr. Mothersill, and Messrs. Levey, Bryan, O'Brien and Macdonald, was appointed, this committee to bring forward at the next meeting plans for mitigating this difficulty.

Three Propositions

The business of the evening began in earnest when the sub-committee previously appointed to look into the matter of the Students' Court, submitted its three alternative propositions for consideration by the meeting. These were: (1) That student government continue as at present operative; (2) that, in substitution for the present method of enforcing discipline in residence, by the students themselves, a policeman be employed who would be paid by the student body; (3) that the whole matter of discipline be turned over to the University authorities.

Their Relative Merits

During the discussion which followed, the purpose of student government and possible alternatives for it were considered freely. Illustrations were cited to show that the present Students' Court, on whom the task of enforcing discipline rests, was a body whose decisions were looked upon as a real punishment and where evidence was given in all seriousness. The one difficulty raised was as to whether or not it was asking too much of one's fellow-student to have him take the initiative in laying information against his fellows.

The policeman idea next came to the fore. It was thought that the establishment of a police system would be an unpopular move, and

FRESHMEN DEFEAT SOPHS AT DEBATE

Score Victory over Rivals on Question of National System of Schools

"Resolved that the B. N. A. Act should be amended to provide for a national school system to replace the various provincial systems now in operation," was the cry of the Sophomores who met gallant defeat at the hands of their recently little-esteemed friends the Freshmen on the floor of the Debating Society last Monday afternoon in Room 142 Arts Building.

The debate was opened by G. E. White who said that the affirmative team was not advocating a radical change in teachers' certificates, textbooks, curricula, etc., but that it was advocating a gradual evolution towards the centralization of all educational matters in the Dominion government at Ottawa. Mr. White went on to say that, owing to the present diversities in these matters among the different provinces, students moving from one province to another often incurred great expense of both time and money. He also said that the provincial systems failed to make teaching requirements uniform, and that this was detrimental to Canadian education. The only way to make for satisfactory conditions was to enforce uniformity by Dominion-wide legislation which would eliminate the granting of so many permits and assure schools of the requisite financial aid.

Mr. Hobbs, the leader of the negative, rising to contend against Mr. White, pointed out that the latter had erred grievously from the text of the resolution in his introductory remarks, as the resolution certainly called for a radical change viz: an amendment of the Canadian Constitution. Mr. Hobbs, in a very interesting manner, showed that Canada was a happy medium between a too-highly centralized nation such as Germany, and an entirely decentralized nation such as the United States, and that Canada's present system prevented both the too great coercion of local districts of the former, and the great diversity of text-books, curricula, etc., of the latter. His further contention was that long-distance control from Ottawa would be more expensive, and that the Dominion government was already overburdened with the problems of tariff, foreign policy, etc. He admitted that the provinces had made errors, but said that there was no guarantee that the Dominion legislators would be infallible. Besides, what was all this struggle that it would not provide a system of government superior to the present one in vogue.

Similarly, the tenor of the meeting showed no desire to give up a system of self-government towards whose building up much energy and thought had been expended, for one which would put all responsibility on University authorities. Student government provided an important phase of education which would be sacrificed if this form of government were abolished.

The feeling of the meeting was finally summed up in the motion already quoted.

House Dances

The report of the Court was submitted and approved. As to the Saturday night dances, it was decided that subject to the sanction of the Provost, a dance would be held on every Saturday evening except on those which followed some major function. The House Committee could use its own discretion as to cancelling dances on account of poor attendance.

STUDENTS SAVE ON MEDICAL SERVICES

Cost Would be $10,000 Through Private Practitioners—Services to be Extended

The efficiency of the Medical Service has been greatly increased, during the year, by the appointment of Dr. E. L. Pope, Professor of Internal Medicine, as Director.

Dr. J. W. Scott has also been appointed Resident Physician. The expansion of the service has necessitated increasing the fee from $3 to $5. The Students' Union voted unanimously in favor of this increase. Provision is being made for the coming session for special surgical rates and also for special rates in connection with the use of the equipment of the University Hospital.

The advantage to the students of this arrangement is shown by the following facts:

During the session the Medical Director had approximately 1,500 consultations with students in regard to matters of health. The Resident Physician made 350 visits to the Infirmary and 50 visits to outside students; while Mrs. Hayes, the nurse in the Infirmary gave 1690 treatments of various kinds, such as colds, sore throat, burns, bruises, sprains, etc.

One hundred and two student cases were treated in the Infirmary of which 85 were resident and 17 non-resident students.

A rather remarkable group of infirmities showed themselves among the students during the session. For example, some of the cases treated were as follows:

Arthritis, asthma, boils, burns, colds, concussion, eczema, epistaxis, inflamed eyes, earache, goitre, fracture, inflammatory rheumatism, intercostal pain, laryngitis, myalgia, pleurisy, quinsy, rectal abscess, scarlet fever, syncope, stomach trouble, sprains, abscess of tooth, tonsillitis, neuralgia, typhoid fever.

It seems hardly necessary to say that if this service was rendered individually by practicing physicians, and ordinary hospital services were made use of, the cost would be at least $10,000, whereas the cost to the students through the Medical Services was approximately $4,100.

SCORE STUDENTS TRY FOR DEBATE

Team to Represent Alberta in Inter-Varsity Contest Will be Chosen Saturday

Will Varsity be able to hold her own in the struggle for the McGoun Cup this year? Of course time alone will answer this question, but the Executive of the Debating Society believes that the answer has already been given by the large number of prospective debaters who have announced their intentions of "trying out" in Room 135, Arts Building, Saturday at 2 p.m.

As every loyal Varsity student knows, our Alma Mater has, in the last few years, taken a very active part in Inter-Varsity Debating, and has met with no small success. Last year, Varsity won the McGoun Cup which had recently been donated by Mr. A. F. McGoun of our Political Economy department and one need scarcely remind ones readers of the undoubted prowess of our men in the recent Oxford-Alberta debate. These men, on account of other pressing tasks, have given up debating for this year, but happy the lot of those who shall be chosen to uphold the name which has been so well merited.

At the present those who have signed up for the "try-out," are: Misses H. Boyle, M. Nix, and B. Buckley, and Messrs. Cormack, Mitchell, Herbert, Rosenthal, McKenzie, Ramsay, Gerber, Baker, Huskins, Thompson, Jones, Wershof, Klink, Oke and Whitford.

The Executive of the Debating Society wishes to make clear, that although aforementioned students will constitute the nucleus for the "try-out," the support of any others will be heartily appreciated.

CHRISTMAS REBATES

As a result of the recent meeting of the committee appointed at the last meeting of the Students' Union with Mr. West, new arrangements have been made regarding Christmas rebates to resident students.

According to the University Calendar for 1924-25, students leaving the University during the Christmas holidays will be allowed rebate at the rate of ninety cents per day for board only, from December 23 to January 2nd (inclusive), and application must be made to the Bursar before leaving so that rebates may be arranged.

This provision has now been changed.

By the amended arrangement rebate at the same rate will be obtained from December 21 to January 4 (inclusive).

On departing at Christmas students must have the red cards initiated at Miss Russell's office. Furthermore, they will obtain a slip from the general office stating the days they are leaving and returning. Rebate will not be allowed for a period of more than fifteen days.

REVIEWS GROWTH OF LABOR UNIONS

Professor Heaton Speaks to Philosophical Society on Position of Labor in Australia

An interesting and instructive lecture on "Some Australian Labor Problems," was given on Wednesday evening by Mr. Herbert Heaton, professor of the University of Adelaide. Labor, said Professor Heaton, is stronger in Australia than in any other country. The Trade Union Movement began in 1850, has grown steadily, until today one out of every eight persons is a member of a union. To effect its reforms Labor turned to politics. A strong Labor Party resulted in a tendency to increase state industry and in the regulation of wages by state machinery.

In accounting for Labor's strength Professor Heaton showed that the early settlers drew a radical strain, economic and religious exiles from the old world. These with the gold-diggers in the fifties built up a new world free from traditional institutions. Also imagination was slow and the immigrants being similar to the people already there were easily absorbed. Thus the task of building up an organization was not hampered. Labor was audacious in its demands and its skillfulness and efficiency developed a highly organized party. The only criticism is that its fine machinery prevents the adoption of new ideas.

The Wages Board and the Arbitration Board, composed of employers, employees, and a distinguished chairman, thresh out their problems. Their determinations are published and become compulsory. The Court has the same procedure as a Court of Justice.

The results that Labor has achieved are the absence of a starving wage and the preservation of industrial peace. Australia's contribution to solving world problems is that of wage adjustment.

PIPE ORGAN FOR CONVOCATION HALL

This Decision Strongly Confirmed at Meeting of University Memorial Committee

The University Memorial Committee met on December 5 to settle finally what form the memorial shall take. The local members of the Committee had met a month earlier and had recorded a decision in favor of an organ for Convocation Hall, but had postponed final action until a meeting at which members from other parts of the Province could be present. The outcome was that the decision to have an organ was strongly confirmed.

The Chairman, Chief Justice Harvey, first called for a report upon the feasibility of the organ project. A letter from the Casavant Company gave specifications for an instrument to cost $12,000.00, to be installed in the gallery of the hall on both sides of the stage. The console could most suitably be placed on the floor level at the foot of the stage. Different members of the Committee discussed how the organ could be made suitably impressive, from the architectural point of view for a memorial, and the placing on it of panels or tablets bearing the names of those whom it would commemorate.

Reports Heard

At the Chairman's request, Mr. Laycock, President of the Alumni Association, reported that he had laid the Memorial Committee's views before the graduates in Calgary and Edmonton, and received their hearty approval of the organ proposal. The Alumni Association acting as finance committee were making preparations for raising money to erect this or any other form of memorial that the Committee should decide on. Miss Studholme reported that the Wauneta Society had not discussed the question by themselves, but that their members had been present at the Student Union meeting when it had been brought up.

Mr. Levey, President of the Students Union, stated that the Union had voted unanimously in favor of a Memorial, but had not recorded any recommendations as to its form. The Union meeting had been called primarily to discuss the erection of a skating rink, and the two projects had unfortunately become mixed together in the discussion, although they clearly have no relation. The Union had come to no conclusion, because the difficulty of raising money for both a Memorial and a skating rink had caused indecision in the students' minds.

In the general discussion which followed, the opinion was expressed that the amount of money which the students would be asked to contribute to the Memorial fund would not materially interfere with their plans for a rink.

Form of Memorial

President Tory recalled to the meeting some proposals that had been discussed in previous times as to the form the Memorial should take, particularly a gateway and a statue. The Committee had even gone so far as to have a model statue made. These various plans had for different reasons proven unsatisfactory.

Chancellor Stuart then moved, and Mr. W. Dixon Craig seconded, that the meeting confirm the decision of the meeting of November 4, that the Memorial take the form of an organ in Convocation Hall. The motion was carried.

It was further decided that a permanent record shall be kept of all those who contribute to the University Memorial Fund; and also that, if possible, the organ shall be ready for its official opening on next Armistice Day.

The meeting adjourned at 9.40 with the hope that when the Committee is called together again in the spring enough money will have been raised to proceed with the installation of the Memorial organ.

STUDENTS' COURT DISMISSES CHARGE

A crowded courtroom testified the interest of the student body when the Students' Court met for the third time this term on Thursday, December 11, when a charge of drunkenness was laid against three students. Both counsels for the plaintiff and defence called many witnesses, the defence counsels maintaining that the three accused had been shamming drunkenness as a practical joke aimed at one of the witnesses for the plaintiff. The court retired to consider the case, and upon returning gave as their verdict that the evidence did not warrant a conviction.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY SPRING PLAY

At a meeting held on Thursday the Dramatic Society Executive decided that the spring play to be presented in March be "The Admirable Crichton," by J. M. Barrie, another of this rather overdone playwrights, but a very excellent one. It is to be produced under the direction of Prof. J. Adam, and on Monday at 4:30 he will preside at a meeting to discuss the play and consider the preliminary try-outs, although no definite parts will be assigned until the New Year. It is hoped that all those wishing to take part in the play be present at this meeting.

SEASON'S GREETINGS

Another fall term has rolled past, and with a taste of truly Christmas weather we are forcefully reminded that the Yuletide season is not far off. The Gateway adds its word to the general good feeling of the season in wishing its readers a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

AN APPRECIATION

During the past term there has appeared from time to time in The Gateway, articles contributed by members of the faculty. These have greatly added to the interest and news value of the issues. In this regard we owe thanks especially to Dr. Alexander, Dr. Broadus and Dr. Gordon, all of whom have willingly given of their time whenever their assistance was requested.

THE ISSUE LATE

The Gateway wishes to make apologies for the lateness of this issue, which to all intents and purposes should have appeared Thursday. The publication was delayed to allow for the article dealing with the joint meeting of Students' Council and Committee on Student Affairs. This meeting, dealing with the important problem of the continuance of student self-government, was of much significance to the student body, and this last issue of the year gave the only opportunity for making public its outcome.

APROPOS

The Junior Class are to be congratulated on the success of their reception, held last Friday in Athabasca Hall. The decorations were expressive of good taste, while the whole affair was managed in a very efficient manner.

RUSSIA IN NEED
STUDENT RELIEF

Miss Rutherford, Speaker at Sunday Service, Tells of Recent Relief Conference

Miss Gertrude Rutherford, of Toronto, was the speaker at Convocation Hall last Sunday. She gave a very interesting address on European Student Relief and one that was appreciated by all present.

Last July, Miss Rutherford attended a conference in Germany on this subject. There were 135 present, representing twenty-eight different countries. In spite of language difficulties, and the smouldering hatreds endured by the war, the conference soon found, as a result of discussing the topic, "The Ideal of a University," that students throughout the world have much in common, and belong to one fraternity.

The crying need this year is Russia. But aren't the Russians a menace to world peace? Many relief workers who have come out of Russia say that the only hope of the country lies with the students. The Communist Government is doing all in its power to educate the common people, and stamp out illiteracy. The fostering of education is the safest game to play with Russia.

"The vision of the world I got," the speaker said, "was not a pleasant one." It was in sharp contrast to the new Heaven and new Earth as pictured in Revelation. Suffering, hatred and distrust everywhere. These conditions must be rectified.

"We call ourselves Christians, but have we lost touch, or did we really ever see Jesus? We should remember the words of the Master, 'Ye are my friends if you do whatsoever I command you.'"

FRESHMEN DEFEAT

gle over the natural resources of the provinces but a tendency towards decentralization of control?

Miss Owens, the second speaker of the affirmative gave instances of nations in which the national scheme of education had been successful. Among these she quoted the United States, Great Britain and France. She urged that by dominion control alone could the foreign element of Canada be made into good Canadian citizens. How could we as Canadians expect them to become assimilated while we ourselves held apart from one another by such diverse policies of education? The time had now come for the Dominion government to take over the whole system, to legislate for it and to finance it.

Miss Nix, speaking for the negative dealt very well with most of Miss Owens' first argument by saying that the people of the United States had flatly refused to accept the national system with which they were approached in 1867, and that, although the national system, granted by the Fisher Bill to Great Britain, might be alright for a small country like Great Britain, it was not feasible for a large sparsely settled country such as Canada. She forgot, perhaps unwittingly, to dispose of the argument in the case of France. Miss Nix

C. Crang: "Ho, Sam'l, why are ladies stockings like sausages?"
E. Allin: "Why, I guess it must be because they are mostly belownees."

This Is Unkind

Jack Marshall says that it is a fitting thing that the janitors should distribute The Gateway, as they are accustomed to handling waste paper.

"Why are the Meds in Physics like gas?"
"Because they obey Boyle's Law."

Ronald Simmons: "Dearest, before parting, would you think it improper for me to imprint a kiss upon your lily-white hand?"

Fair Pembinita (softly): "Well, it seems to me that it would be entirely out of place."

Who Is He?

Inquiries have been received from Pembina about what Gladys Woodhull meant when she sighed the other day, "Oh, how I wish this evening was ten hours long!" Who was he?

The Cynics

Eric Stuart: "Ho, hum, there is nothing new under the sun."

Sturrock: "You're right; and there is an awful lot of old stuff pulled off under the moon."

We think it rather fitting that the medal the Aggie stock judging team captured in Toronto should have the engraving of a bull on it.

Red. McL.: "Gosh, but I'm thirsty."
Ross: "Let me get you some water."
Red: "I said thirsty, not dirty."

Use Keatings

Squire: "Is there anything I can do for you, Sir Lancelot?"

Sir Lancelot: "Go and get a can opener. There is a bed bug in my knight clothes."

Ancient Relic

Coops: "Say, Hank, when did smokeless powder come in?"

Gale: "Ever since women began to wear complexions, me boy."

struck a very vital question when she said that those fostering the Separatist schools would be openly opposed to the proposed change, and that it would be impossible of fulfillment in the face of the opposition of nearly one-half of Canada's population.

Mr. White made a very able rebuttal, but was unable to pick to pieces the major contentions of the negative.

A criticism of the debate was capably given by Dr. MacDonald, the Honorary President of the Debating Society. Dr. MacDonald gave a careful analysis of the most important arguments, and said that, although some of them had not been clinched as well as they might have been, on the whole the debate had been both instructive and interesting.

YEAR BOOK STAFF
LAY PLANS EARLY

Work on Evergreen and Gold for 1925 Already Under Way—Efficient Staff Selected

A very enthusiastic organization meeting of the Year Book staff was held in Arts 135 recently. After acquainting the various members of the staff with one another the new Director, Percy Davies outlined the changes in organization this year which included among other things the appointment of an official illustrator, and assignment of complete charge of epitaphs to the woman member.

Should the new organization prove successful an attempt will doubtless be made to bring the year book within the constitution, as no such provision is made at present.

The preparation of the book, outline of individual work, suggestions for improving the book and plans for further extension were also discussed at some length, all tending to show the annual is due for a banner year. Following the meeting several members of the staff adjourned to McDermids, where arrangements had been made with the manager to go through the engraving plant.

The following have been selected by Mr. Davies as the officials for this year's publication:

Efficient Staff
"Morty" Watts, popular and well known president of the junior class has been selected as the Editor for the book. Morty's executive ability will assist the Director and in planning the book, while he will also take an active part in the photographic and editorial end of the work.

M. L. (Red) Wallace—"Red" as this fiery Scotchman is commonly known among his fellow-aggies, hails from High River and has been indirectly associated with the book during the past two years. He is a member of Class '25 and besides assisting in planning the book, as business manager will nurse along the circulation and advertising departments.

Miss Gladys Sorenson has been selected as the "rose" on the year book staff. Hailing from Calgary she entered the University in 1923 with a scholarship from the I.O.E. She has done considerable work for The Gateway. She will have complete charge of epitaphs.

Geoffrey Hewelcke, secretly known as the inquisitive inquisitor Casse-rolero, will use his editorial ability throughout the book.

Martin Johnson, a freshman hailing from Victoria High School, Edmonton is breaking right into the advertising management of the publication. A careful conscientious worker, his efforts as assistant advertising manager of The Gateway have aroused most favorable comment and he is being given a real opportunity to "make good" on the Year Book.

Organization Plans

An attempt has been made to give all year's representation on the staff and this should guarantee to the future an abundance of experienced help to take over the publication. Epitaphs will be collected on a faculty basis, immediately after Christmas, representations being appointed in the Senior years of the various faculties. Circulation will be organized on a somewhat similar basis, the management hoping to obtain a personal canvass of all students. Elaborate plans have been laid for the extension of the advertising service including a business directory and a special attempt is to be made to attain more advertisements through the mail. Anybody willing to do a small amount of typewriting in this regard, should get in touch with the business manager.

"Geof" has acquired an enviable reputation in newspaper circles. Besides being an active Arts leader he has been doing considerable work for The Gateway, last year won the Goblin prize essay competition, and worked during the summer on the reporting staff of the Albertan, which paper he now represents in Edmonton.

Mel Gale will take over all arrangements pertaining to cuts. As secretary of Soph Class, Junior executive, and manager of Rugby, Mel has shown great ability and his selection for this important position is a surety of its success.

Charlie Waldo, another of the "Mad Hatters," has been chosen for the newly created position of illustrator. Charlie entered Varsity in '21 and the following year normalised in Calgary where he served as illustrator on the Normal publication. His drawings at Varsity have attracted considerable attention and fortunately his ability has now been turned in a much needed channel.

"Rod" Adams, one of the hustling members of the Soph executive will lead the circulation dept., this experience as a member of the business staff of the Calgary normal publication together with his untiring energy and zeal should go a long way towards breaking the high record set in this department last year.

All clubs, teams, groups and executives desiring representation in this year's book are urged to discuss their plans and get in touch with Year Book officials at once. Quotations may be obtained from M. Wallace (Athab. 303), Mel Gale (Athab. 254), or Percy Davies. For information regarding art work, cartoons, or illustrations Charlie Waldo should be consulted in Athabasca 115.

Suggestions for the improvement of the book will be welcomed by the staff and everybody is invited to send any snapshots pertaining to initiation, track meets, games, hikes, or other university nights, whether or not they are such as can be publicly exhibited.

Quotations on the printing and publishing have already been received from several different firms and it is likely a decision will be arrived at some time this week regarding the contract.

THREE TO ONE AT CHRISTMAS BANQUET

The Christmas Banquet to be given in Athabasca Dining Hall, Saturday, the 13th, at 6.30 p.m. has been the chief topic of conversation around the residences over the past week-end. The wires between Athabasca Assiniboia and Pembina have been kept burning, for each girl is to have three dinner partners instead of two as in previous years.

According to the word of Miss Russel it will be an informal dinner with a few short speeches and toasts, followed by dancing. The latter will be kept up until 11.30. This will be the last affair before the grind of exams. It is exclusively for resident students and the excitement it has already caused anticipates one of the most enjoyable evenings of the year.

VIVACIOUS PLAY AT CERCLE FRANCAIS

Miss Helen McQueen with a small but efficient cast, to wit, Mr. Shirley MacDonald on the stage and M. Sonet behind the scenes, presented a very charming comedy in Athabasca Lounge, on Wednesday, December 3, at the meeting of Le Cercle Francais.

"Five O'clock Tea" in spite of its English name is a very vivacious French play. Shirley MacDonald, as the young husband, who tired of never seeing his wife, resorts to a little "quet-apens" to make sure that he will have her to himself for at least one afternoon, was very much of a Frenchman both in manner and in speech. Helen McQueen the young bride whose time is too taken up with social duties to pay any attention to her husband, was very charming. Both students are to be congratulated on their pronunciation—it was intelligible even to their fellow-students. Mr. Ikovich, in presenting Miss McQueen with an old-fashioned bouquet, expressed the appreciation of all those present.

THE ORIGINALS IN "STEPPING OUT"

The great enthusiasm aroused over the forthcoming engagement of the ever-popular Originals company (formerly Old Dumbbells), appearing here at the Empire theatre tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, in their latest and greatest attraction, "Stepping Out," is indeed well merited, for the new show is probably the most unusual of the series of soldier shows presented in Canada since 1919. The cost of old and new favorites includes Gene Pearson, the much heralded male soprano; Bob Anderson, Alan Murray, Leonard Young, Bertram Langley, Jerry Brayford, James MacDonald, Thomas Dunn, Gus McKinnon, Frank Gordon, and Percy Campbell, under whose management the company is again touring. A popular addition to the Originals is Norman Blume, the brilliant English musical comedy favorite, late of Ziegfeld Follies.

Every form of entertainment is offered in "Stepping Out." Several fine musical numbers, three unusual skits, including a screamingly funny burlesque, "The Duchess Performs"; dances, concerted work and a delightful one-act operetta. Leonard Young and Alan Murray are responsible for much of the good stuff presented, which is a potpourri of all the best material they have written and have gathered together. After five years on tour in Canada, the Originals have a better company than ever before, and have broken all theatrical records throughout Canada from coast to coast since they first started out with the Original Dumbbells in 1919, after returning from France.

THE FIREPLACE

We see again that the old tri-color aggregation have annexed premier Dominion laurels in the pig-skin pastime. When it comes to rugby we take off our hat to Pip Leadley and his fast stepping college crew.

Congratulations Queen's from a Western Worshipper and long may the honor be yours!

"Curley" Taylor who played quarter for Coach Loomis' University of Saskatchewan aggregation when they visited here in 1922 brought the West into Eastern rugby prominence this year by grabbing off an outside position with the Toronto Varsity Squad this year. Curley was the life of the Saskatchewan team and we extend our congratulations to him for his rise in rugby ranks.

Varsity Puckchasers To Open Season January 7th

League to Consist of Victorias, Dreadnaughts and Varsity—Home Games at South Side Rink—Reduced Squad Hard at Work and Will Soon be in First Class Shape

The Senior City Hockey League this year will be composed of three teams, Varsity, Dreadnaughts and Victorias. This was decided at the last executive meeting and the decision of Camrose against entering was not a surprise to the league heads. Conditions surrounding the entry of the Junction city lads were too severe and they will be forced to find opposition in other regions.

It is rather unfortunate that the Camrose boys are not in the league this year. Their playing last year always brought out a capacity house and they kept the suspense of the league up by copping second place to enter the play-off against Varsity. And their hometown pride showed itself when some three hundred odd fans accompanied the team to Edmonton for the final game. A four team league with Camrose would have certainly been a success and it is indeed unfortunate that the fates ruled otherwise.

Each team this year will play eight games, four home games for each team, making a total schedule of twelve games. Varsity's home this year will be Jimmy Smith's South Side arena while they will be forced to travel to the arena for the home games of both the Dreadnaughts and Victorias. Last year all games were played on the South Side and owing to the small size of the rink the games were not as fast as they should have been but this year with the games at the Arena the boys will be able to step with the best.

The league will officially open on Christmas Day when the Dreadnaughts and Victorias will provide the curtain raiser. Owing to the fact that many of the Varsity puckchasers will be out of the city for the holidays they were given a bye. Varsity's first game will be a home fixture at the South Side against the Victoria squad. Varsity hockeyists have long been awaiting the opening and a record crowd should greet the Green and Gold color bearers at the initial performance.

An innovation has been adopted by the league this year insofar as a certain percentage of all gates will be given to charity. Such a move by the executive is certainly worth commendation and the supporters of Senior Hockey should be larger than ever. Another decision was reached whereby teams playing home games will receive all receipts after expenses are paid. This will save a split as has been the case in former years and will be far more satisfactory to all teams.

The Varsity squad has been cut to twelve players so the team is now down to real work and is certainly showing class. By the time the curtain rises for the opener the boys will be in first-class shape to uphold past honors.

The following is the complete schedule of games (and hockey enthusiasts are asked to paste this in their hat):

Dreadnaughts at Victoria—Dec. 25th.
Varsity at Varsity—Jan. 7th.
Varsity at Dreadnaughts—Jan. 9th.
Varsity at Dreadnaughts—Jan. 12th.
Dreadnaughts at Varsity—Jan. 16th.
Varsity at Varsity—Jan. 21st.
Dreadnaughts at Varsity—Jan. 28th.
Dreadnaughts at Varsity—Jan. 28.
Dreadnaughts at Varsity—Feb. 2nd.
Varsity at Varsity—Feb. 9th.
Varsity at Dreadnaughts—Feb. 13th.
Varsity at Dreadnaughts—Feb. 16th.
Varsity at Varsity—Feb. 20th.

Last team mentioned is home team. The first two teams in the league play off on Feb. 23rd and 25th.

Varsity trip if arranged will be made between Jan. 21st and Feb. 2nd.

HOUSE-LEAGUE PLAY OFF SOON

League Almost Completed—Close Rivalry Marks Both Sections

Good Refereeing Provided

Punctuality and Number of Players Adds Much to Success of League

House League Basketball this year is at present experiencing one of the most successful seasons of recent years and with the first half almost terminated the keen competition still prevails. A total of eighteen games have been completed to date nine in each league and there still remains one or two games before the final play-off.

"A" Section has probably shown the keenest competition where three teams Vic Lloyd's, Ken Thompson's and Ross Henderson's are all tied up with three wins and a loss apiece. It is interesting to note that Henderson's team lost to Thompson who in turn lost to Vic Lloyd and the tables were again turned when Henderson's squad defeated Lloyd's team. A sudden death play-off between these three teams will probably be arranged to decide who will contest the honors against the B squad.

In "B" Section Selne's team with two wins out of two starts loom up as probable champions but Glass with two wins out of three games has a possible chance in the event of Selne dropping one of his remaining two fixtures. Such an event would undoubtedly tie the league up and with the closeness of the Senior tests there is a possibility that a play-off could not be arranged before Xmas.

The outstanding success of the league is no doubt due to the punctuality of teams in appearing on the floor and to the number of men who are turning out. This has been a big difficulty in past years but such faults seem to have been remedied. It is hoped that such conditions will continue in the second half after Xmas.

The league is particularly indebted to the referees who have handled the games in very satisfactory manners particularly to Mr. Cliff Osterlund whose work with the whistle has added much towards the success of the league.

We have just heard of our idea of the dumbest of that famous type of gymnasium equipment—He thinks the Leadley-Batstone combination is the latest in underwear.

LAW

At the Tuesday luncheon of the Law Club the talk by Hugh C. MacDonald, K.C., on the "Decline of Trial Council," was one of the most interesting and at the same time most instructive addresses to which it has been the good fortune of the Law Club to listen. With forceful language and apt illustration he drove home the essential rules of cross-examination and court conduct, rules recognised by the leading counsel of Canada, and it followed will save much in painful experience. It is to be hoped that the Law Club executive will be able to continue in the future the high standard of addresses which has so far been maintained.

AGRICULTURE

An Agricultural Club luncheon was held in Athabasca lounge on Dec. 8th, in honor of the first stock judging team, from the University of Alberta, to compete at the big eastern fairs. Dean Howes, Dr. Lehmann, R. D. Sinclair and the members of the team gave short and interesting speeches. The measure of success attained by the team shows that Alberta need not take a second place to any college on the continent when it comes to judging stock. The luncheon is a good idea and should be made an annual event.

Malcolm McArn, the belated member of the team, is back in residence. It is rumored that Mac and Scotty spent a profitable afternoon at Timothy Eaton's while in Winnipeg.

"L. B." brought back a pipe, which, he claims carries more improvements than any other incinerator on the campus.

Herb Craig and H. R. Clark blew in to see the boys on Dec. 6th.

Ted Brunson who has been ill with rheumatic fever for more than a month, left for home on Dec. 6th accompanied by Don McCanell. We are sorry to see Ted go, and hope that he will have better luck next year.

The Hon. George Hoadley, minister of agriculture, addressed the students on Agriculture and Economics on Monday morning, Dec. 8th, at 10.30. His subject was "Co-operation." Mr. Hoadley also made some interesting remarks about the Empire Exhibition at Wembley.

Those having snaps for the Year Book are requested to turn them in to Wes. Smith as soon as possible.

MEDICINE

The Fourth and Fifth year Med classes are happy now. On Tuesday, Tom Mibie got the long-expected shipment of Haem-o-cytators, so some feel they have a logical excuse to play around before the tests.

Dr. Carmichael, at the Out-Door Clinic, between a hurried ushering in and out of patients (it is thought somewhere between the 10th and 12th) related the experience of one of the mining professors in the East, who received a letter from a farmer, saying he would be interested to know that he had lumbago on his farm! Being of a practical turn of mind, it was suggested that he place a plaster on the farm and rent it.

The Senior class in Physiology were entertained on Nov. 30th at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Downs. Mrs. Pope, Mrs. Eddy, and Miss Smith were also present. A very pleasant afternoon was spent by all.

There has been some discussion regarding the theory of the Munro treatment.

ARTS

What are the Therapeutic actions, if any? Was the diagnosis for treatment made solely on case history? The Fifth year might enlighten us.

The committee appointed to choose a faculty pin suitable for the Arts Club have selected a design which is now on display on a notice board in the rotunda of the Arts Building. The graduating year of every member is to be included in the centre of the design, and those desiring to obtain a pin are asked to sign their names in the column denoting their year. If the committee can get a full list of the names by December 13th, the pins will be ready before Christmas, and members of this faculty are therefore asked to lose no time in seeing that their signatures are affixed to this list.

Our genial brother-in-Arts, Geoff Hewelcke, has added to his interesting appearance a cornob pipe, of cubist design, and owing to heaven its master's execrable taste in tobacco. Ways and means, forcible if necessary, of subduing Geoff's latest vice should be seriously considered by members of this Faculty.

In spite of the fact that two other organizations held meetings on Wednesday afternoon, 120 members heard Dr. Alexander's talk on his recent European trip. This says something for the way in which the Arts Club, the youngest faculty organization in existence, is being supported.

Has any bright member of "Arts" ever tried to figure out who the gentleman is, with the brachycephalous dome and the sardonic smile in the cut at the head of this column. He bears a distinct resemblance to the Hon. Editor of this Department, whose identity is supposed to be a secret. Try this instead of cross-word puzzles.

FACULTY WORK-OUTS COMMENCE

Teams Start Rounding into Shape League to Open Soon After New Year

FORM TEAM LEAGUE

At last Jimmy Smith's ice palace has officially opened. A good crowd was out on Tuesday evening to enjoy the band and excellent ice. The Comm-Law aggregation were to have practiced that afternoon, but Jimmy knowing what a fast aggregation they were was afraid to let them on for fear they burn his ice up and thus spoil his grand opening.

Through an unfortunate misunderstanding between the varsity hockey officials and the rink manager the Med-Dent and Ag-Sci aggregations who turned out in goodly numbers last week were unable to perform on the ice which had not quite fully matured. We are glad to see however that with careful nursing through the mild weather of the past two weeks and the colder weather now, that a good sheet of ice has at last rewarded the efforts of Jimmy Smith's ice manufacturer. The Arts-Pharmacy and the Med-Dent teams will practice on Friday from 5-6 and Saturday from 3 to 4 respectively of this week. Next week the Ag-Sci and Com-Law teams will have the ice on Tues. 5-6, Dec. 16, and Fri. 5-6, Dec. 19, respectively. Although these last two practices before the holidays come on the week of Senior tests, still we hope to see as many fellows turn out as possible.

The officials had hoped that each team would get about two work-outs before Xmas, but due to there being no ice as soon as we expected, each team will have had only one work-out, so that all prospective players are urged to try and get in some work-outs with their home-town clubs during the Xmas vacation. Be sure fellows to bring your complete hockey outfit back after the new year as the schedule will soon get under way after varsity opens.

More Favorite Indoor Pastimes—Listening to Professor Heaton describe Canadian Rugby as "Fifteen men on a dead man's chest. Yo! Ho! Ho! and a bottle of water."

OAFS LEADING PARLOR PETTERS

Not By Neck But in Bowls Tournament.—Shades of Franky Drake Modernized

Well, we may not be able to play snooker but when it comes to bowling why even old Franky Drake blushes when he thinks how he boasted being the king pin of the ancients. We never were very strong for the Labor theory but as for strikes why old

Eddy's Matches himself has very little on us when it comes to striking.

Patterson's Parlor Petter inflicted a few beginners' lessons on themselves and are now trailing the Oafs so far that they haven't reached the hoop-skirts of civilization. But what can be expected of a bunch of Mrs. Vernon Castle he-men who consider the Polka the acme of physical entertainment. Yea verily their lightness is not confined to the feet.

The outcome was cleverly (?????) several half-moons ago by that old half-wet Aesop when he remarked "Strike, while the iron is hot." Well, we left the iron hot and there was very little to it but living up to our ancestral advice. "But such precautions must be taken," said the blond-haired youth as he passed the bread, "And how about some more spuds too, O'Brien."
